THE YEAR AHEAD, WRITTEN IN YOUR STARS

Born 14 March 1991 · 07:40 · London, United Kingdom

Cover: the sky on the day you were born — every planet on its orbit, where it really was.

Before you begin

This is not a horoscope for everyone born under your sign. It was calculated from the exact date, time and place of your birth, and then from where the planets will actually travel through 2027. No one else on earth has this reading.

HOW TO READ THIS

Part one is who you are — the permanent chart. Part two is your 2027: the handful of big planetary movements that shape your year, then a page for every month with the dates that matter and one thing to actually do. The last page is made to be torn out and kept somewhere you'll see it.

Astrology describes weather, not fate. Read it as a forecast from a friend who is honest with you.

Sun in Pisces

You feel everything — including the things other people haven't said yet.

Pisces Suns live with the doors open. You pick up moods, atmospheres and unspoken needs, and you respond to them before you've decided to. Music, art, water and quiet time are not luxuries for you; they are how you come back to yourself.

Your gift is compassion. People feel understood in your company without having to explain themselves, and your imagination turns ordinary things into something lovely. You see the best in people, and often help them find it.

The honest part: you can absorb other people's lives until there's little room for your own. Saying no feels unkind, so you drift, rescue or disappear instead. Your softness is a strength once it comes with a boundary attached.

Moon in Aquarius

You feel things from a little distance — and that is how you think them through.

An Aquarius Moon processes emotion with the head first. You step back, observe and understand before you react, which makes you calm and fair in situations that would rattle others. Friendship matters to you as much as romance.

You need freedom and acceptance to feel safe: room to be your unusual self without having to explain it. You are loyal to your chosen people and your causes, and you care about the world in a way that is genuinely selfless.

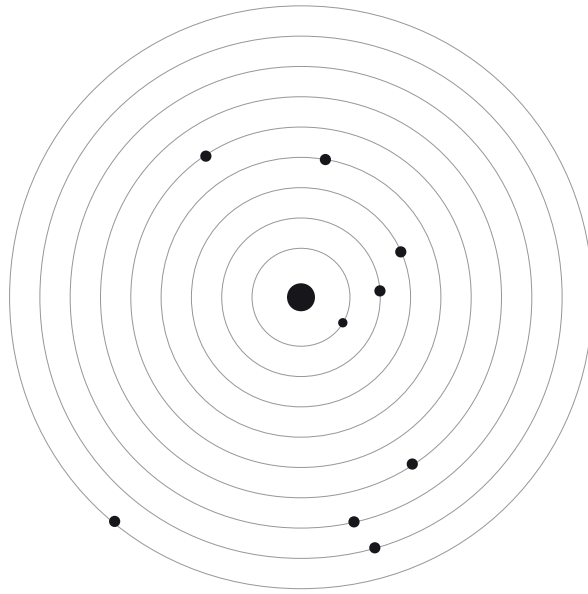

The honest part: distance can turn into detachment. When things get too close or too messy, you go cool and rational, and the people who love you can feel shut out. Staying in the room when it gets emotional is your growth edge.

Taurus Rising

People read you as calm, grounded and quietly sure of yourself.

Your Rising sign is the first impression — the door people walk through before they reach the rest of you. With Taurus rising you come across as steady and unhurried, someone with good taste and a reassuring presence. People relax around you before they know why.

You meet life at your own pace. You don't rush into things, and you are hard to push once you've made up your mind. The impression you leave is of someone dependable — the person others want in charge when it matters.

PART TWO

Your 2027

“A quiet year on the outside, a big one on the inside.”

2027 asks you to slow down before a big new chapter. Saturn and Neptune move through your most private house, closing old stories and inviting rest. Uranus keeps shaking up how you earn, Pluto pushes your career towards something more powerful, and Jupiter brightens your home life before moving into your house of joy and romance in late July. Finish things this year; you are clearing the ground for what comes next.

SATURN · ALL YEAR

Saturn in your house of rest and endings

A quiet year of closing chapters — so the next one starts clean.

Saturn spends 2027 in the most private part of your chart: rest, solitude, endings and what goes on behind the scenes. It can feel slower than you would like. That is the point. This is the year to finish what is unfinished, let go of what you have been carrying out of habit, and rest before a bigger cycle begins. The work you do in private now shows up in public later.

NEPTUNE · ALL YEAR

Neptune in your house of rest and endings

Your inner life is unusually rich — give it room.

Neptune moves through your most private house, which it naturally rules. Dreams, intuition, quiet time and creative or spiritual practice feel especially important. You may need more rest and solitude than usual. Use it: journal, meditate, make art, walk by water. Make sure your quiet time restores you rather than simply helping you avoid things.

URANUS · ALL YEAR

Uranus in your money house

Your income is changing shape — be ready to adapt.

Uranus is moving through your house of money and values. Income may come from new or unusual sources, and old ways of earning may feel outdated. Ups and downs are more likely than steady lines. Keep a cushion, stay flexible and be open to an idea that would have seemed odd two years ago. Your values are getting more independent too.

JUPITER · JANUARY TO LATE JULY

Jupiter in your house of home

Home grows — in space, in comfort or in family.

Jupiter is moving through your house of home and family. A bigger or better home, a family celebration, a happier time with relatives or simply more comfort where you live are all favoured. It is a good period to invest in your home base and to let people in.

PLUTO · ALL YEAR

Pluto in your career house

Your ambition is getting serious — and powerful.

Pluto moves slowly through your house of career and reputation. Over these years your professional life is transforming; more power, more responsibility, and sometimes the end of one path so another can begin. Play the long game; the position you are building is meant to last.

YOUR ONE ADVICE

Close the old chapters, keep your money flexible, and let the second half of the year bring back the fun.

January opens slowly. Mars, the planet of drive, turns retrograde on 10 January and stays that way until April, so the year asks for planning before pushing. Use the quiet start to decide what really matters to you in 2027.

A solar eclipse at the top of your chart opens a new chapter in your career and public life. A new role, a new direction, a promotion or a project that puts you in front of more people can begin now. Love gets real

Jul 26	JUPITER ENTERS VIRGO Jupiter arrives in your house of joy: romance and creativity grow.

YOUR MOVE Say no to one thing that isn't you.

August holds the biggest sky event of the year: a total solar eclipse on 2 August, one of the longest of the century, followed by a lunar eclipse on 17 August. Saturn turns retrograde on 9 August. It is a month of big beginnings and clear endings.

A fresh start at home

A solar eclipse in your house of home opens a new chapter in your private life. A move, a renovation, a new household arrangement or a new kind of closeness with family can begin now. Even a small change — a new room, a new routine — can set the tone for years. Think about what home should feel like, then take the first step towards it.

DATES THAT MATTER

Aug 2	TOTAL SOLAR ECLIPSE IN LEO A new chapter begins at home or with family.
Aug 9	SATURN SEXTILE YOUR MOON Grounded and steady. Good for serious family talks.

Aug 25	JUPITER TRINE YOUR ASCENDANT Jupiter blesses how you come across. You are noticed — show up.
Aug 31	NEW MOON IN VIRGO A fresh start for joy. Begin something just for fun.

YOUR MOVE Change one thing at home that you have put up with for too long.

September settles things down. After the eclipses, it is a month to organise, follow through and build on what started in August. Mars moves into Scorpio in early September, adding focus and depth to whatever you choose to work on.

Fix the routine

The New Moon in your house of daily work is a fresh start for routines. One small change to sleep, movement, food or your schedule sticks better now than at any other time this month. It is also a good moment to organise your workload and start a new system at work.

October is reflective. Mercury turns retrograde on 7 October and goes direct on 28 October, so the month favours finishing, editing and careful conversations. Mars moves into Sagittarius mid-month, bringing back optimism and a wish for adventure.

Too much, too fast

ACTIVE OCT 25 – NOV 5

Jupiter makes a tense angle to your Mars: huge energy and a tendency to overcommit. You can do a lot now — just not everything. Watch for overdoing it physically and overpromising at work.

November moves forward. With Mercury direct again, plans can be made with confidence. Mars moves into Capricorn in late November, supporting ambition, structure and serious goals for the year ahead.

The ambition check

ACTIVE NOV 13 – NOV 26

Jupiter makes a tense angle to your Sun, inflating everything: confidence, appetite, plans. It is a growth transit, but a hasty one. The opportunity is real; the size of the promise attached to it may not be. Read the small print, and don't let optimism do your budgeting.

You are visible. Make sure it is the right thing.

How this reading was made. Planet positions were calculated from the date, time and place of birth, and for every day of 2027, using professional astronomical models accurate to a fraction of a degree. The interpretations were written by the JournalsToGive team — no two readings are the same, because no two skies are.

This reading is for reflection and entertainment. It is not medical, legal or financial advice. You are always the one steering.
